

Ashè Cultural Arts Center

New Orleans, Louisiana, USA

Photo courtesy of Ashe Cultural Arts

Size:
18,200 square feet on two sites

Dates:
1998 - Present

Project Team:
Efforts of Grace, Inc.

Nonprofit organization that uses art and culture to support equity, human, cultural, and economic development.

Goals & Strategies

Place
Habitat	Goals: Goals not defined. Strategies: Redeveloped and repurposed historic building.
Water	(Details not provided by researchers)
Energy	(Details not provided by researchers)
Health + Happiness	(Details not provided by researchers)
Materials	(Details not provided by researchers)
Equity
Access to Community Services	Goals: Use art and culture to support equity, community, human, and economic development. Strategies: Project is a nonprofit that provides opportunities for art presentations, community development, artist support, and creation of partnerships that amplify outreach and support efforts.
Beauty	(Details not provided by researchers)

Performance Levels Achieved:

	Standard	Good	Better	Living	Regenerative
Place
Limits to Growth
Food
Habitat
Transportation
Water
Energy
Health + Happiness
Civilized Environment
Neighborhood Design
Biophilia
Resilient Connections
Materials
Material Plan
Embodied Energy & Carbon
Waste
Equity
Neighborhood & Access
Access to Nature
Access to Community Services
Investment
Beauty
Beauty & Spirit
Inspiration

Sources:

<https://www.ashecac.org>

Note: This case study was developed using found information.*

21st Century Development is a model for the creation of regenerative communities that strives to provide a healthy environment for all people and living systems now and in a dynamic future.

The initiative is created and supported by a partnership of AIA Minnesota, the Center for Sustainable Building Research, Colloqate Design and The McKnight Foundation.

